Do proton pump inhibitors harm to semen? Hyderabad Sindh based study

Published On: March 14, 2019 | Pages: 001 - 009

Author(s): Imran Ali Shaikh*, Naila Masood and Tariq Zaffar Shaikh

Background: Proton pump inhibitors (PPIs) are widely used over counter drugs in Pakistan. Unjustified use of PPI is increasing. One concern of their use is spermatogenesis and male fertility. Objective: To observe the detrimental effects of proton pump inhibitors on various parameters of semen of younger individuals of Hyderabad sindh Pakistan. Duration of study: 1s ...

Assessment of birth preparedness & complication readiness and associated factors among ANC attendant pregnant mothers in Arba Minch Town Governmental Institutions, Arba Minch, Southern Ethiopia

Published On: February 15, 2019 | Pages: 001 - 005

Author(s): Samuel Dessu*, Zinabu Dawit and Fikre Bojola

Introduction: Birth preparedness and complication readiness is the big pillar in the process of planning for normal delivery and seeking interventions if there is an obstetric emergency. Since Maternal mortality is a public health challenge globally, different effort were applied from government as well as nongovernmental organization. Methods: Institution based cros ...

Abstract View Full Article View DOI: 10.17352/ijsrhc.000004

Abstract View Full Article View DOI: 10.17352/ijsrhc.000003