Smoking asthmatics, a neglected large phenotype of asthmatic patients

Published On: December 09, 2019 | Pages: 001 - 008

Author(s): Paraskevi Katsaounou*, Marios Ioannou, Michael E Hyland, Mikaela Odeyr, Otto Spranger, Anne Lindberg, Matthias Gasser, Lorena Garcia Conde, Xavier Jaumont and Ismail Kasujeef

Introduction: Smoking in asthma patients is an important factor contributing to worsened control of asthma. Despite increased awareness of the harmful effects of smoking in patients with asthma, a significant proportion of asthmasics remain smokers. Here, we present findings from the Still Fighting for Breath global survey regarding the prevalence of smoking in patien...